Regional Rallye Cup 2020 (hereinafter referred to as RRC) is an international series of car rallies that include the 35th International LKW FRIENDS on the road Jännerrallye (January 3-5, 2020) and the 48th Rallye Český Krumlov (May 22–23, 2020). The aim of RRC is to interconnect both borderland events, to make the individual events more interesting for crews and spectators and to strengthen cooperation of organizers from Austria and the Czech Republic.

The events are governed by the FIA International Sporting Code and its annexes, the Sporting Regulations for the FIA Regional Rally Championship, the National Sporting Regulations in accordance with the FIA regulations and the Supplementary Regulations of the individual events.

The condition for participation in the RRC is to start into the initial special stage of both competitions. Any crew with competition licenses that qualify for the start in ORM, HRM, ORC, HRC, Czech Rally Championship and Czech Historic Sporting Rally Championship may participate in the RRC.

3. Eligible classes of cars

3.4 Eventual non-admission of the participant to the start of the 48th Rallye Český Krumlov due to unapproved technical modifications made to the vehicle in the period between the two events, or replacing the car by another which does not comply with Article 3.1, is the responsibility of each competitor.
